RAFFLES COLLEGE OF HIGHER EDUCATION EMBARKS ON THE NEXT 25 YEARS OF SUCCESS BY DESIGN

Singapore, 15 June 2016 - Raffles College of Higher Education (Raffles Singapore) embarks on her next 25 years of Success by Design after a yearlong celebration of her first 25 years of success.

Over the past 25 years, Raffles Singapore is proud to share the success stories of its alumni, such as Alfie LEONG (Recipient of President's Designer of the Year), Brett CAMERON (Recipient of President's Design of the Year), Madeleine WONG (Winner of Asian and Singapore Young Fashion Designer Awards), Sven TAN (Winner of Asia and Singapore Mercedes-Benz Fashion Awards), Afton CHEN (Winner of Best Costume Design for M1-The Straits Times Life Theatre Awards), CHEN YIQI (Winner of A'Design Award & Competition, Milan, Italy), and Fredy CHENG (HDB Place Making Design Competition , First Runner-up).

This year, Raffles Singapore continues to make its mark by winning the SG Mark award and five Singapore Good Design awards. The winners are:

Amongst the 235 Advanced Diploma and Bachelor graduates in the June 2016 graduation, a few impressive graduating students are already making waves in the design industry. One such prominent graduate is Mr. Wayne GOH, Bachelor of Design with major in Product Design. Wayne is a Singapore Good Design Award 2016 winner. His design, the OTOGON FURNACE, is in the pipeline for production to serve the community. This design is also contesting for the RedDot award and the IKEA Young Design Award 2016. On behalf of Raffles Singapore, we wish Wayne all the best in his career as a Raffles Product Designer.

Setting the benchmark for fellow graduates of the June 2016 cohort is Mr Harvee KOK Leong Vee. Besides winning the inaugural Harper's Bazaar New Generation Designer Award, SG Mark and Singapore Good Design awards, Harvee was selected by Samsung Singapore to open the Samsung Fashion Steps Out @ Orchard 2016 with his award winning collection, incorporating Samsung Galaxy S7 and S7 Edge series.

Delivering Samsung’s design philosophy of rethinking what a phone can do, the final year Raffles Fashion Designers of the 2016 Degree cohort re-designed men’s shirts into a collection of 21 dancer’s outfits to complement Harvee’s collection. Raffles Multimedia Designers, Jason SANTO and Chelsy, narrated the craftsmanship behind Harvee’s collection through Samsung’s Gear VR, bringing the viewers through a microscopic journey of each stitch and make of the garment.

The Raffles graduation will not be complete without the fashion showcase, and this year, 25 graduates of Bachelor of Design with major in Fashion Design will send their graduation collections down the catwalk. Prominent guests such as Mr. Daniel BOEY, Singapore’s renowned show producer; Mr. TAI Lee Xiang, President of the Design Business Chamber Singapore (DBCS); and management of Paragon Shopping Centre will be gracing the event to identify the next generation of Raffles Fashion Designers.

Paragon Shopping Centre – supporter of Raffles Privato, a Raffles Fashion Design incubator since 2010 – will announce the selected designers to retail their labels at Paragon. They are:

Their debut collection for Fall/Winter 2016 in Paris, themed Avalon, will be shown at Raffles’ fashion showcase and retailed at Raffles Privato in the third quarter of the year.

Behind each successful designer is the unwavering support of the industry mentors and media partners. This year, Raffles Singapore’s industry partner, Damiani, appointed Ms Irene HO of Irene Ho The Atelier to dress Ms. Lynn YEOW-De Vito, brand ambassador at ICON BALL 2016, and she was voted one of the top 20 Best Dressed for the night. Recognizing the talent pool at Raffles Singapore, ICON Magazine is the media partner to support the 25 graduating fashion designers this evening. Look out for the next issue of ICON magazine and the digital magazine at www.IconSingapore.com.
